

FHA INSURED HOME FINANCING SAID AVAILABLE INDEFINITELY

Due to the great amount of publicity given to the expiration of different sections of the National Housing Act much misunderstanding has arisen as to just what is expiring and what remains in force, according to F. W. Marlow, district director, Southern California, Federal Housing Administration.

"What is to expire at the end of this March, unless extended by Congress, is the FHA insurance of Title I loans made by private lending institutions for the purpose of repair and modernization of property after that time. This does not in any way affect those insured loans which are already set up on the books of the lending institutions up to and including March 31 of this year, they will remain in force and effect until liquidated," said Marlow.

SWITCH TO ELECTRIC COOKERY

It's modern and up-to-date

● No woman wants to think of her home as old-fashioned, obsolete. Yet many a brand-new home is already outmoded because it does not contain an All-Electric Kitchen.

● There's no need for anyone to make this mistake, not when the latest type of electric range can be purchased for only a few cents a day. ● Probably you already own an electric refrigerator. That's the first step toward your electric kitchen. The range is your second step and you're ready for it now. ● See your dealer... find out how easy it is to enjoy the advantages of electric cookery. Bring your kitchen up-to-date with a new electric range.

TYPICAL EFFECTS OF A STRIKE IN ANY MAJOR INDUSTRY

The chart above shows how the chief effects of a strike begin immediately to spread in all directions. Back at the supply sources, cancelled orders for raw and semi-finished materials and equipment tend to create additional unemployment and lost business in ever-widening circles. In distribution channels, sales, employment, and income fall off more or less sharply. Transportation revenues shrink. Curtailed business and thin pocketbooks at the strike center, in the supply sources, and distribution and transportation channels result in generally reduced retail trade, smaller tax collections, increased relief burdens. This picture of the long trail of losses, even much simplified as it is, indicates why economists cannot estimate in advance the total cost of a strike. Studies of the losses from previous strikes show that their total cost mounts to anywhere from 6 to 700 times the value of wages lost by men thrown out of work at the strike center itself.

FHA Insures Funds For Improvements

Since the inauguration of the Federal Housing Administration an opportunity has been given to obtain funds on reasonable terms for improving property. Painting, heating, plumbing, ventilation, roofing, and various other building work not only constitutes a real investment in improving living conditions and preserving equities in building but also reduces the cost of maintenance and operation of property.

Private financial institutions approved by the Federal Housing Administration advance credit for such modernization purposes.

Charlie Says:

"Now that radio comedians have taken to including each other on their programs, fighting, and wise cracking about the other's ability to whistle thru his teeth or bang off a Beethoven concerto on a zither... it occurred to me that local merchants might well follow the precedent set by these high salaried pseudo-comers.

"For example, I might get personal and advertise that Hunter Scott down the street couldn't hit the city hall with a machine gun in broad day light (you should see his marksmanship medals); or I might say that Banker Post couldn't figure simple interest at 3% (it's usually 6%... or is it?) Of course they could say that I couldn't raise water lilies for sour apples... and they'd be right!... most of mine got friz off in the big freeze. Remember it?"

"Charlie LeBoeuf."
